

Principles of Macroeconomics - Course Study Sheet

Course: Principles of Macroeconomics Cluster: Business and Economics

Examines national output, inflation, unemployment, growth, money, fiscal policy, and international linkages.

Five-module course map

Module	Active evidence to produce
1. GDP and national accounts	Explain the central idea, complete an application, diagnose one plausible error, and connect it to the next module.
2. inflation and unemployment	Explain the central idea, complete an application, diagnose one plausible error, and connect it to the next module.
3. long-run growth	Explain the central idea, complete an application, diagnose one plausible error, and connect it to the next module.
4. money and banking	Explain the central idea, complete an application, diagnose one plausible error, and connect it to the next module.
5. aggregate demand and policy	Explain the central idea, complete an application, diagnose one plausible error, and connect it to the next module.

Reliable learning method

define the measure and time basis, distinguish nominal from real, connect identities and behavior, analyze policy channels, and state lags

Representative application

Evaluate an inflation report by separating price level, inflation rate, components, base period, and distributional effects.

Weekly study cycle

1. Preview the objective and write two questions. 2. Attend or engage and capture decisions rather than every sentence. 3. Reconstruct the main idea within 24 hours. 4. Complete independent practice. 5. Analyze the first unsupported move on each error. 6. Use feedback. 7. Schedule a delayed mixed recheck.

Self-check before moving on

Can you explain the idea without notes, complete a fresh task, detect a near-miss, verify the result, and state a limitation? Watch especially for: treating GDP as complete well-being or confusing price levels, inflation, real growth, and nominal change.

What to save a macroeconomic briefing with definitions, data interpretation, model, policy channels, and uncertainty
